WHAT MAKES THE PIANO RATTLE?

Queer Causes Found by the Tuner—Things in the Instrument.

Piano tuners are sometimes called upon to "tune" gas fixtures as well as pianos.

Frequently the owner of a fine upright "grand" enters a vigorous complaint because "that piano rattles so."

Then the piano tuner packs his few tools and some extra glue and parts of the "action" into his long, slender valise and proceeds to feel the pulse, pound the chest, examine the tongue and overhaul the internal economy of the offending piano.

His experienced ear tells him that the piano is all right. His intimate knowledge of the mechanism and make up of the piano assures him that nothing is the matter with the instrument, and he says so.

"But the piano does rattle," insists the owner.

"Now, listen when I touch this key." And, sure enough, a decided buzz and jangle are heard.

"It is not in the piano," replies the tuner, and he touches the key again and again, at the same time glancing around the room.

"Here it is," he says at last, "pointing to the glass globe around the gas jet. 'There is the rattle,' and the rattling noise is silenced when he removes the glass globe.

This is a common experience of piano tuners. Certain notes in the piano vibrate in harmony with a gas fixture, a picture frame, a china platoon hung against the wall or the base of a broom commonly litters the top of the sensitive instrument, and the innocent piano is blamed for the discordant jangle.

Pins, buttons and other things foreign to the piano which find their way into the instrument set up complaints and harsh cries when certain keys are struck, and recently a piano tuner in Evanston, searching for the "rattle," found and restored to the young woman who used the instrument her upper set of false teeth, which had disappeared mysteriously the week before.

Besides coins, buttons, pins and toothpicks, the piano tuner's valise in cludes hairpins, pocketknives, paper cutters, manicure instruments, knitting needles, needles, jewelry, nails, tacks, bits of glass, pieces of picture wire, buckles, collar buttons, sleeve buttons, rings and even money which had been placed in the case for safe keeping and then forgotten. —Chicago Chronicle

The Wheel and England.

Take the Great North road. Except upon market days, one might have traveled any 50 miles along it between Highgate and York without meeting 50 people.

Towns which literally lived by the road, had drifted into a helplessly somnolent condition, from which no apparent human agency could awaken them, and the stranger thereto was stated at as much as if he had been a highlander or an Iroquois in full warpaint.

The highway itself, being of no particular value to anybody since the Great Northern railway began to whirl the old patrons of the road along at 45 miles an hour, was allowed to decay, and in wet seasons or snowy weather was well nigh impassable.

The rage for wheeling has produced a rapid transformation. Station yourself at any point you like, and try to count the machines which pass on a fine Saturday afternoon during the course of an hour, and you will soon abandon the task as hopeless.

Then, consider that every mile of every machine spreads something during his trip, even if it be but the cost of a telephone drink. Consider that a very large number of Saturday riders skip out and take good meals during their journey, that they are constantly spending something over and above their actual traveling expenses, that the wonderful expansion of our acquaintance with our own country resulting from these peaceful intrusions of it by the inhabitants, not merely of the metropolis, but of every city and considerable town in the land, has led to the rebuilding up of such local houses as the castle, or the abbey, or the great somebody's butchery, or the waterfalls, or the view (the inspection of all of which means the expenditure of money), and an approximate idea may be gained of the influence upon national trade which this at present alone exercises. —Chambers' Journal

The Lone Jurymen Not Unanimous.

In the trial of a case in Powell county not long ago the attorneys objected to all the jurors who had been summoned save one. As no others were at hand, it was agreed that the action should be tried by the one remaining jurymen.

After the evidence was heard the jurymen, told the lone jurymen to retire and write up a verdict. He retired, and, after staying out for over an hour, came back and reported solemnly that the jury had failed to agree upon a verdict. —Louisville Courier Journal

WORKINGMEN FOR SILVER.

The several labor organizations have decided to commence an educational campaign for free silver. It was inaugurated at Chicago yesterday by issuing an address which gives a brief history of the financial legislation of this country. It is signed by J. R. Sovereign and John W. Hayes, of the Knights of Labor; Eugene V. Debs, of the American Railway Union; John McBride, President of the United Mine Workers of America; C. A. Johnson, President of the Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association; Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor; P. M. Arthur, Grand Master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; F. P. Sargent, Grand Master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; Marion Butler, President of the National Farmers' Alliance; H. H. Trener, President, and P. J. McGuire, Secretary United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. A million or more circulars are to be distributed every month. The arguments advanced in favor of silver appeal directly to the working people of the country, as they are endorsed by the leaders of labor organizations.

The address just issued demands of the present Congress the passage of an Act for the immediate return to the money of the constitution as established by the founders of the Government by restoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1, the coins of both metals to be equally full legal tender for all debts, public and private, as before the fraudulent demonetization of silver in 1873. It also condemns the increase of the national debt in time of peace and the issuance of interest-bearing gold bonds at any time.

Never did a movement for financial reform have such unanimous endorsement from the masses as the demand for the restoration of silver. The trusted leaders of every industrial organization in the country approve it, and many of the manufacturers favor it. Against it, however, are arrayed the great moneyed interests of the United States and Europe and the Republican and Democratic organizations. The moneyed interests subsidize the press, and force chambers of commerce and like organizations, many of whose members are under obligations to the gold trust, to oppose the restoration of silver, and the machine politicians, who uphold their parties right or wrong, will do as the party leaders direct for the bare chance of getting office if the party controls the administration.

The silver cause looks brighter today than for many years. Information from various parts of the country indicates that the Democratic party is hopelessly divided on the question and that the majority will favor free coinage, and the action of a number of Republicans in Congress denotes that a respectable minority of the party will not support a single standard candidate for President. It is evident, too, that the National Silver party and the People's party, whose conventions meet at the same time and place, will unite on a Presidential candidate, notwithstanding the efforts of the "half-breed" gold bugs to keep them apart. The address issued at Chicago by the principal officers of the labor organizations and farmers' alliances show that the working people of the country, the men who produce wealth, and without whose co-operation capital is useless, are unanimously in favor of restoring silver.

THE HALE & NORCROSS TROUBLE.

President Lynch of the Hale & Norcross went into the mine last Sunday accompanied by several miners under the direction of Foreman Pearce. It appears that the miners have no ill feeling toward Mr. Lynch or the new management, but object to Superintendent Tangerman, against whom they have an old grudge. A gentleman who visited the Comstock on Sunday informs the JOURNAL that the A. P. A. does not figure directly or indirectly in the present trouble between Tangerman and the miners, and it is very probable that work will be resumed in the mine under another Superintendent. Though Mr. Tangerman is a mild-mannered man, for some cause, real or fancied, he is in ill repute on the Comstock, and it is not probable that the Hale & Norcross will provoke a contest with the Miners' Union by insisting that he shall be Superintendent of the mine. Neither is it likely that he will venture back to Virginia City until the present excitement subsides. The Governor certainly would not call out the State militia to protect Mr. Tangerman until requested to do so by the Commissioners or Sheriff of Storey county, and they have not asked for assistance; in fact, Virginia City at the present time is one of the quietest towns in the State.

POLITICAL CHAOS IN MISSOURI.

Press dispatches from St. Louis state that there is political chaos in Missouri. The old parties are hopelessly divided within their own ranks. The silver Democrats led by Governor Stone have a large majority, but the sound money Democrats, led by ex-Governor Francis, are alert and prepared to take advantage of every mistake made by the silver men.

The Republicans are even in a worse tangle than the Democrats. There is no semblance of harmony. In addition to divisions on the silver question there is a revolt against the dictatorship of Channery I. Pilley. He is using the lash in a vain endeavor to keep those who are opposed to his leadership in the traces and many are leaving the party for that and other reasons.

It is generally conceded that the electoral vote of the State will be given to a free coinage candidate for President, and that the gold men, whether Republicans or Democrats, or a combination of both, cannot possibly carry the State next November.

The Gazette Company seems to think that the Appropriations Committee graciously inserted a clause in the appropriation bill for an appropriation of $50,000 for a public building in Reno without any effort on the part of our Congressman. How unsophisticated the Company is when it wants to be! We all know that had it not been for Mr. Newlands the committee would not think of putting such a clause in the bill, and what the JOURNAL fears is that Mr. Reed's end of Congress will not pass it.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Items of Interest From Here, There and Everywhere.

Coyotes have killed every cat in the town of Valley, Washington, and in the neighborhood. They come in at night and take every cat in range.

The rabbit drive in Fresno county, California, last Saturday was attended by about 8,000 people, and it is estimated that 20,000 rabbits were killed.

About 1,900 men are working in the Southern Pacific shops at Sacramento. Besides repairing twelve gondola coal cars, twenty-five oil cars are being constructed.

The Bodie Miner says there is hope for the mining town of Aurora will boom again. An English company contemplates making a move there on an extensive scale. Nothing more than surface work was ever done in the camp and the yield was millions.

The Yellowstone national park contains several bottomless holes, which are, according to geological authorities, dry geysers. Into one of these, known as "Hell's Back Door," 10,000 feet of line with a weight attached has been lowered without touching the bottom.

Alexander Ferguson and his sister of Frankton are the oldest inhabitants of Indiana. He is 108 and his sister 107 years old. Ferguson worked on his farm until he was over 100 years of age. He now walks more than two miles every day, and he and his sister are in excellent health.

A Lewiston, Maine, man borrowed a neighbor's battery for treatment of his pleurisy. After he had been cured by application of the battery he discovered that he had never turned on the current once. He had simply taken hold of the handles and faith had done the rest.

Mr. Fred Benken, one of the prosperous ranchers of Lamolite, told the Independent Saturday that he was satisfied there was fully as much if not more snow in the Ruby mountains now than at this time last year. He thinks there will be plenty of water in that section for all if properly used.

A Chance for a Beet Sugar Plant.

H. Studiezka & Co., of St. Louis forwarded a circular letter to Governor Jones regarding the machinery necessary for a beet sugar plant and suggests that such a plant could be attached to the State Penitentiary. The letter has been forwarded to the JOURNAL by Private Secretary Hanford.

Samples of twenty-five tons of beets can be worked and experimented upon and from such experiments capitalists could form an idea as to what could be done. The entire plant is offered for $8,000 and originally cost $38,000. This is a splendid opportunity for any individual or company that believes the sugar beet industry could be made to pay to try the experiment. A complete list of the machinery connected with this plant is in possession of this office and will be shown to anyone interested, or parties can get full information by addressing Henry Studiezka & Co., 2012 St. Louis avenue, St. Louis.

The Reason Why.

Jolly Nellie McHenry is the most popular sobrette on the American stage. She can sing better than most women who dance. She is a better dancer than most women who sing. She is an acknowledged actress, and her versatility is admitted by all critics. She possesses that indescribable magnetism which makes her audience feel as if she was skin to them and they are proud of her. She has surrounded herself with one of the strongest companies of singers and comedians ever seen in one company, and she gives them all a chance to show what they can do, and in her cycle comedy "The Bicycle Girl," she gives her audience full value for their money by giving them the funniest, cleverest, brightest and greatest show on earth. She will be here next Saturday evening.

Death of an Estimable Lady.

Mrs. R. S. Gammans, an early resident of Washoe county, died yesterday at her home in Pleasant Valley after a brief illness. Mrs. Gammans came to Washoe City in the early days of that town and was shortly after married to R. S. Gammans. For a number of years they lived at Washoe, and in the seventies they moved to Huffaker's, and a little later moved to the old Winfrey ranch in Pleasant Valley, afterwards known as the Gammans' ranch, where the family has resided ever since. Mrs. Gammans was known as a good neighbor and was devoted to her little family. Her home was her world, and her aim in life as well as happiness was in making those happy around her. She leaves her husband and three sons, besides many friends, to mourn her loss.

The funeral will take place from the family residence at 10 o'clock A. M. on Wednesday. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.

A Rare Treat for all.

An artistic and elegant display of millinery novelties will be on exhibition at Miss Gibb's millinery parlors during the opening days, March 26th, 27th and March 28th. 1w

DIED.

GAMMANS—In Pleasant Valley, March 23, 1896, Mary, wife of R. S. Gammans, a native of Ireland, aged 55 years 1 month and 14 days.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be compelled to the most skillful physician, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

JUNIOR ORDER AMERICAN MECHANICS.

Its Aims, Objects, Principles and Purposes.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—If you will allow me space I desire to present to the readers of your esteemed paper the aims, objects and declaration of principles of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, the oldest patriotic society in the United States. Although the order numbers over 200,000 members and is represented in thirty-two States by as many State councils I find little is known of its teachings in the silver State of Nevada.

The Junior Order United American Mechanics is a loyal patriotic organization, fraternal and beneficial, strictly non-partisan and non-sectarian.

The word "Junior" in the title has no relation to the age of members as some suppose. It was adopted to distinguish the order from the O. U. A. M. and has no other significance. Nor is the word "Mechanic" to be construed literally. It refers in no manner to artisans, but embraces every pursuit.

The aims and objects of the order are:

1. To maintain and promote the interests of Americans and shield them from the depressing effects of foreign competition.

2. To assist Americans in obtaining employment.

3. To encourage Americans in business.

4. To establish a sick and funeral fund.

5. To maintain the public school system of the United States of America and to prevent sectarian influence therewith and to uphold the reading of the Holy Bible therein.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES.

The constant landing upon our shores of the herds of ignorant, vicious and lawless criminals of the old world should be viewed with alarm by the loyal and patriotic citizens of this country. We affirm a warm and hearty welcome to all emigrants who desire to better their condition and become a part and parcel of our nationality, but we have not one square inch of room for the Anarchist, the Socialist and the Nihilist, or for anyone who is not willing to bow allegiance to that flag which is powerful enough to shield them as well as us in the exercise of all civil and religious liberty.

We affirm our allegiance and devotion to the public school system of this country. We believe in compulsory education, and that all teaching in our schools should be in the English language, to the end that future generations may be able to take their place in the ranks of our country's workers educated in this history, the customs and manners of Americans.

We believe that the bible should be taught in our public schools, not to teach sectarianism, but to inculcate its teachings. It is the recognized standard of all moral and civil law. It contains the purest code of morals the world has ever known, the highest precepts, the noblest gems of thought and the loftiest aspirations of which the heart is capable. We therefore believe that our children should be educated in its teaching, but that no dogma or creed be taught at the same time.

We believe that patriotism and love of country should be instilled into the hearts of children, and that with the sacred words of "Mother, Home and Heaven," our children should be taught that our flag is the symbol of all that makes a "home" for us.

We would place a flag upon every public school in our land, and a bible within, and the object lesson therein set forth should be a beacon light in every storm which threatens to engulf us.

We guarantee to every man the liberty of worshiping God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and would give every assistance to protect all in the exercise of this liberty, but we object most strenuously to the interference of any church, no matter under what name it may exist, in the temporal affairs of this country.

In the strictest sense we are a national political organization, but we oppose with unanimity the slightest taint of partisanship. We, as members of this order, affirm our allegiance to the objects of the order as paramount to any partisan affiliation.

"Our Country" is our motto. Our country, right or wrong—to help it right when wrong; to help it on when right. And we keep this motto steadily before us.

Mr. Editor, an organization faithfully striving for purposes so patriotic as those enunciated in the declaration of principles of the Junior Order United American Mechanics must command both the admiration and the respect of intelligent people. Teaching to the young and to the old alike that the fabric of a true representative government must be maintained by unselfish devotion to the doctrines of "Virtue, Liberty and Patriotism," making love of country and loyalty to its flag the controlling impulses of every participation in public affairs; defending zealously the integrity and purity of the great American system of education for all in schools free from the impregnation of prejudice, and teaching, by precept and practice, the generous and tender ministrations of earnest fellowship, of honest sympathy and of wise benevolence.

The Junior Order United American Mechanics is destined to achieve enduring honor for itself, and increasing benefits for those included in the constantly growing circle of its influence. If the order had done no more than to lift the flag of our country above the schoolhouses, where our children are taught and trained, and thus give them an object lesson in patriotism, and to educate them in love for the dear old flag, they would have achieved the right to exist, but when, in addition they exert their influence along unsectarian lines, and outside the limitations of partisanship to protect the rights of American citizens, help the unfortunate and worthy, distribute benefactions, protect our grand system of public schools, inculcate broad lessons of patriotism and instill a love for civil and religious liberty, they have accomplished vastly more. No man can afford to live outside of the influence which the Order surrounds him if he would have developed in him the highest type of American citizenship. Great evils confront us as a nation, and to foster such agencies as will most surely destroy these evils and prove lasting safeguards for our great Republic should be the work of every true man. G. W. PERKINS, Counselor Sequoia Council No. 3, Reno, Nev., March 21, 1896.

NEVADA APPLES.

What San Francisco Merchants Say of Them.

Hon. Ross Levers of Franktown recently shipped a carload of apples to Gould & Joudin, wholesale fruit dealers, 312-316 Washington street, San Francisco, and has received the following from the firm which shows what is thought of Nevada apples in that city: SAN FRANCISCO, March 19, 1896.

Ross Levers, Esq., Franktown, Nev.—DEAR SIR:—The carload of apples arrived yesterday afternoon. We must say that they are the finest lot of apples that has ever been our pleasure of handling. They are pronounced by all dealers to be the best preserved, finest packed and the best quality of apples that they have ever seen. We are holding them at very high figures and expect to realize better prices for you for this fruit than you have ever received for any carload of apples that has ever come to the San Francisco market, and we presume to any other market that you have ever sent your fruit.

You are to be congratulated on the condition and quality of this fruit and the State of Nevada will get a name for having as fine apples as are grown in the United States, if such fruit as this carload of yours can be grown there in quantities enough to ship in car lots. The entire car without any exception we found to be in A-1 condition, and there is not an apple that is bruised or in bad order. The car was loaded very nicely and the party that loaded it understood his business. You can expect to hear from us very soon as to the prices we are getting for your fruit. Yours very truly, GOULD & JUDIN.

District Court.
The case of the State of Nevada vs. Lee Brooks occupied the attention of the District Court and a jury yesterday. The case was tried and submitted, and the jury after being out less than a half an hour brought in a verdict of guilty.

It will be remembered that Brooks was arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses by having represented himself as being connected with the management of the Truckee Ice Palace Company and swindling a man out of some sixty odd dollars. Brooks will receive his sentence Saturday.

The most striking episode during the trial was the arraignment of R. S. Osburn for contempt of court, he having been subpoenaed as a witness and ordered to produce certain documentary evidence. He failed to answer the subpoena and was notified that he would be wanted at 1 o'clock, but did not appear, and the Court issued a writ and the Sheriff served it, and upon appearing in court the witness failed to offer sufficient excuse for the delay and neglect in producing the papers required in the case and was adjudged guilty of contempt and ordered to pay a fine of $10 or be confined in the County Jail one day for each $2 of said fine. The fine was paid.

The Discovery Saved His Life.
M. G. Calhounette, Druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail, and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use, and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

STATE CAPITAL NOTES.

U. S. Grand Jury Installed.—Indian Whisky Cases.—Jones and Piper.—Numerous Outdoors Get In.

(Correspondence of the JOURNAL.)
Numerous summoned Grand Jurymen, officials and witnesses, including numerous Indians, piled into the State Capital this morning from Reno and the Comstock section for attendance on the United States Circuit Court, making Carson look and feel lively.

Court met at 10 o'clock pursuant to adjournment from last Monday, Judge Hawley presiding. The business before the court, civil cases, was disposed of in half an hour, and court adjourned until next Monday.

The U. S. District Court now came into session, same judge, Hawley, presiding. The names of the Grand Jury venire, thirty, were called and responded to and the following were selected as the twenty-three required as the trial panel:

Washoe county—Jacob Cohn, Stephen Ede, Reuben Geise, F. R. Lewis, J. M. Lamb, Fred Strassburg. Ormsby—W. L. Taylor, J. S. Heidenrich: John Carner, Robert Logan, Wm. Anderson, Wm. T. Elsey, W. H. Chedick, Jacob Weber. Lyon—E. J. Hancock, D. M. Hogan, M. L. Johnson. Storey—Mark Feeney, J. L. Godfrey, John Lentz. Douglas—A. P. Squires, Frank Feltie, Michael Fay. Robert Logan was sworn in as foreman.

The Court stated to the jury that its duties would not probably detain it over a day or two at the farthest. A few cases of selling whisky to Indians constituted the business. Yet if anything further should transpire, the court would promptly place the proper information before the jury.

In his instructive charge to the jury his Honor read the law relative to mercenary disposing of the white man's firewater to Indians. The Putes, Shoshones, all the Indians in this State except the Washoes, are the wards of the Government and have to be protected against the aforesaid strong drink, whether on or off the reservations. The law is very stringent and explicit and must not be violated with impunity.

The jury retired shortly after 11 A. M. and a recess of court was taken, pending the report of the jury, probably to-morrow forenoon.

His Honor stated that in the trials before the Court what cases, if any, the Grand Jury might find would take precedence by reason of the parties being kept in jail pending trial. Jones' and Piper's cases would be set to immediately follow. Piper's case was set for the 25th, Wednesday, but has to be correspondingly reset as it is merely an unimportant windup of the mint cases.

Tangerman came up from Reno on last evening's local to meet Lynch and McDonald, who were on their way from the Comstock to San Francisco, and he went with them.

I met him and remarked that he had got his unfinished Comstock shave properly completed in Reno. "You bet," said he vivaciously, "I've got my boots blacked now in Carson, and I'm all right; the country is safe, just tell the boys 'the devil isn't half so black as he's painted, and they'll bear from me yet.'" AMONG THE SHEAVES.

O Lord, the fields are ripe with corn;
The laborer's foot is heavenward borne
On harvest's golden wings;
The sky is fair, with here and there
A drowsy cloudlet sleeping;
Lord, in this time of happy cheer
What do I with my weeping?

O Lord, among the golden sheaves
To gain the day with mourning!
Oh, shame on him who idly gleans,
Or harvest blessing scorn!
The heavens above look down in love;
The earth smiles back victorious;
By hill and vale where'er you rove
The harvest fields shine glorious.

But on my soul a sadness lies,
Made deeper by the story
Of nature's patient sorrow
Thus perfected to glory.
Each faithful heart hath borne its part,
The autumn treasure sharing,
But I, I only know the smart
Of failure and despairing.

O Lord, had all these weary days,
These wasted weeks of grieving,
Been spent in showing forth thy praise,
I had had cause for grieving.
No empty hand and empty hand
Had been my harvest measure,
Nor had my harvest should I stand,
A mark for thy displeasure.

Let yet there come a thought to me;
Let the poor and lowly
With bended head and heaved knee
Go gleaming, gleaming slowly
They did not save, they did not mow;
But care is all they gather.
Wouldst thou such labor even now—
Zy gleanings, O my Father?
—L. D. KIRTON in Good Words.

THE BREAD OF THE WORLD.

What This Important Food Is Made Of In Different Countries.

In England and America wheat bread is within the reach of all, and scarcely is a thought given to the fact that only a small portion of the earth's inhabitants enjoy it. It is only during the last century that wheat bread has come into common use. A hundred years ago wealthy families in England used only a peck of wheat a year and that at Christmas, eating oat cakes during the remainder of the time.

The German "pumpernickel" is a rye bread with a curious, sour taste, but after eating it while one acquires quite a taste for it. It is less nutritious than that of wheat. In the poorer parts of Sweden the people bake their rye bread only twice a year and store it away, so that eventually it is as hard as bricks.

Further north still barley and oats become the chief bread crops. But in the distinct north is where man is put to thought to provide himself with bread.
In Lapland if a man trusted to obtain his bread from the people who live out world slaves, to the people who live out back of the pine, and after grinding this mixture it is made into large flat cakes, which, after all, are not half bad.

In Greece, Kamichitka, the pine or black bread, is well known, made of oats, barley, constituting the whole of the native bread food. Bread and butter is represented by a dough of pine bark sprung with seal fat. In certain parts of Siberia the people not only grind the pine bark, but cut off the tender shoots, which procedure must give the bread an unpleasantly resinous flavor.

In Iceland the lichen is scraped off the rock, made into bread puddings and put into soup. In Russia and China buckwheat is pressed into service. It makes a palatable bread, though of a dark violet tinge.

In Italy and Spain chestnuts are cooked, ground into meal and used for bread and soup thickening. Millet furnishes a white bread in Arabia, Egypt and India.
This grain is credited with being the very first used in breadmaking.

Rice bread is still the staple food of the Chinese, Japanese and Indians.

In the Indian archipelago the starchy pith of the sago palm is made into bread, and in parts of Africa the natives use a certain root for the same purpose.

De Tabley and His Books.

The side on which I was most capable of appreciating Lord de Tabley's gifts as a collector was the bibliographical.
If I am anything of a connoisseur in this direction, I owe it to his training.
His zeal in the amassing of early editions of the English poets was extreme;
he was one of those who think nothing of hanging about a bookshop at 6 o'clock in the morning waiting for the shutters to be taken down. But his zeal was emphatically according to knowledge. He valued his first edition for the text's sake, not for the bare fact of rarity. Every book he bought he read, and with a critical gusto. A little anecdote may illustrate his spirit as a collector. In 1877 he secured, by a happy accident, a copy of Milton's "Poems" of 1645, a book which he had never met with before.
Too eager to wait for the post, he sent a messenger round to my house with a note to announce not merely the joyful fact, but—this is the interesting point—a discovery he had made in the volume—namely, that the line in the "Nativity Ode," which in all later editions has run—Orb'd in a rainbow, and like glories wearing, originally stood—
The enamel'd arras of the rainbow wearing.
"which," as he said, "is a grand mouthful of sound and ever so much better than the weak 'like glories.'"—Contemporary Review.

Diamantine.

A very attractive ornamental art of recent introduction is, as stated, the production of an imitation beadwork on fabrics of various kinds by means of what is known as glass powder, or "diamantine," the result being patterns which present an appearance similar to that exhibited by glass beads on close or open meshed fabrics. The method of operation in carrying out this idea is said to be simple—that is, the fabric is coated by means of molding boards with resinous substances, composed of, say, 60 parts of gutta serena and 40 parts of shellac, dissolved in 100 parts of alcohol, 10 parts of glycerin being added to the solution under continuous stirring. After the composition has been carefully distributed over the surface of the fabric the glass powder is shaken on it, and finally pressed by repeated rolling, etc., the glass powder being pressed by thorough pulverizing or pounding, and may be of any or many colors.—New York Sun.

"The burning question," exclaimed Rivers, bringing his fist down hard on the table as he took a fresh start in the discussion of the labor problem, "the burning question is"—
"Got a match about you?" interposed Banks, biting off the end of a cigar and yawning dully.—Chicago Tribune.
